

DECIDES UPON EXTRA SESSION

Wilson Says Congress Will Convene About April 15.

TARIFF LEGISLATION FIRST

President Elect Declares Pledges of the Party Ought to Be Redeemed as Promptly as Possible and That It Is in the Interest of Business That All Uncertainty Be Speedily Removed.

New York, Nov. 16.—Governor Woodrow Wilson announced that immediately after his inauguration as president of the United States he would call an extraordinary session of congress to convene not later than April 15 for the purpose of revising the tariff.

The president elect will sail for Bermuda this afternoon for a vacation and will return on Dec. 16. To set at rest in the meantime speculation as to what he would do with regard to tariff revision he issued the following statement:

"I shall call congress together in extraordinary session not later than April 15. I shall do this not only because I think that the pledges of the party ought to be redeemed as promptly as possible, but also because I know it to be in the interest of business that all uncertainty as to what the particular items of tariff revision are to be should be removed as soon as possible."

Beyond this brief announcement the governor said he had nothing further to say. Most of the opinions he had received from public men seemed to be in favor of an extra session, he said.

Hastened His Announcement.

The governor did not intend to express himself about an extra session so soon after his election. Although he has favored the idea of an extra session because the present arrangement would not bring the new congress into session until thirteen months after its election he had expected to spend more time in ascertaining public opinion.

With the time to be consumed in discussion the governor felt that if an extra session were not called the benefits of tariff revision would be postponed for practically two years.

Throughout the campaign he reiterated that he desired an immediate revision of the tariff and that Democratic leaders knew perfectly well how to proceed about it.

The governor was impressed by the argument also that with an early announcement as to an extra session Democratic leaders in congress could begin to take counsel at an early date so that much of the preliminary detail could be worked out before congress convened on April 15.

Opinion Practically Unanimous.

The governor was prompted incidentally in making his early announcement by the fact that many members of congress were desirous of arranging for accommodations in Washington for the extra session, if there was to be one. Immediately upon his election the governor made up his mind to wait until after he had turned from his vacation before making known his attitude, but upon finding, as he said, that opinion in favor of a special session was practically unanimous he felt no hesitation about making public his conclusion.

Though the president elect means to stay while in Bermuda he really expects to give a good deal of time to thought about the problems that face him. He will sketch his annual message to the New Jersey legislature and will do some extensive reading on data on the tariff, monopolies, banking and currency reforms and other issues.

The governor came to New York to attend a dinner given in his honor by his classmates, Princeton '79. He expected to have no political conference while in the metropolis and seemed fully confident that he would not be disturbed by any political calls while resting in Bermuda. All prominent men in the campaign closed, the governor said, knew his intention of postponing the consideration of political subjects until his return.

A FOLLETTE HITS MCGOVERN

Disputes Contention That Governor Saved State Ticket.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—The voters rebuked Governor McGovern for a "bull moosing" episode by giving him a plurality far less than that given to his tried and true colleagues on the Republican ticket—Morris, Donahoe, and Johnson.

This quotation from a leading editorial in La Follette's Magazine indicates that Senator La Follette does not believe with Governor McGovern at the latter's championship of the "bull moose" cause saved the state ticket.

Stray Shot Kills Woman.

Tony, Wis., Nov. 16.—Mrs. W. J. H. was found dead in her front yard by a bullet hole in her breast. It believed she was shot by a stray shot from a hunter's gun.

BULGARIA DEMANDS FRUITS OF VICTORY

Six Stipulations as Basis for Terminating War.

London, Nov. 16.—Bulgaria's terms of peace to Turkey, as reported at Vienna and sent from that city by the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, consist of seven stipulations.

Included in the first stipulation is the surrender of the Tchatalja army and its withdrawal, guarded by Bulgarians.

The second provides for the evacuation by the Turks of Adrianople, Scutari, Monastir and Janina.

The third calls for payment of a war indemnity.

The fourth demands the surrender of conquered territory.

The fifth calls for the internationalization of Constantinople.

The sixth provides for opening the Dardanelles and making Saloniki a free port.

Since Bulgaria already has expressed a willingness to leave the status of Constantinople and Dardanelles to the powers, the correspondent says, the fifth and sixth clauses of the terms as reported here appear improbable.

BANK RESOURCES IN RECORD

Comptroller Says They Have Exceeded Previous Increases.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The banking resources of the United States in the last four years have exceeded by billions the record of any similar period in the history of the nation, declared Lawrence O. Murray, comptroller of the currency, in a statement just issued.

During the four years ended June, 1912, the resources of all banks in the country—national, state and private—increased from $19,583,000,000 to $24,956,000,000, or $5,403,000,000. The nearest approach to this enormous figure was the $4,413,000,000 increase for the four years ended June, 1904, as compared with the previous four-year period.

Individual deposits likewise broke all records, increasing from 1908 to 1912 by $4,289,000,000. Loans and discounts also established a new record, increasing by $3,515,000,000 since June, 1908.

Governor's Plurality in Wisconsin Now Figured at 11,276.

Milwaukee, Nov. 16.—According to election returns gathered by the Milwaukee Sentinel, which claims to have the completed official vote except Milwaukee county, Woodrow Wilson received 164,409; Taft, 130,878; Roosevelt, 58,661; Debs, 34,120; Chafin, 8,410; and Reimer 698. Wilson's plurality, 33,531.

For governor, Francis E. McGovern, present incumbent, is credited with 179,479; Karel (Dem.), 168,203; Thompson (Soc. Dem.), 34,287; Hill (Pro.), 9,306. McGovern's plurality, 11,276.

The vote on woman suffrage in seventy out of seventy-one counties was 336,136, of which 132,045 favored the amendment and 224,391 opposed it.

WILSON IS FREE FROM PROMISES

Should Be a Fearless and Independent President.

UNLIKE HIS PREDECESSORS.

Most Presidents Took Office With "Political Promissory Notes" Outstanding Against Them—Seniority Will Prevail in Selection of Senate Committee Chairmanships.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 16.—[Special.]—No "promises to pay" need disturb Woodrow Wilson when he takes the office of president. In this he is different from many other presidents. Perhaps he is more like Grover Cleveland than all others, for Cleveland had few "political promissory notes" outstanding when he took office. Harrison had stacks of them, mostly made by his supporters when in tight places. McKinley had all that Hanna had made during the preliminary and presidential campaigns. Roosevelt assumed many of the McKinley obligations.

Taft was confronted by promises of Frank Hitchcock and Charles Taft, who had made quite a number of promises.

Wilson Stands Free.

Governor Wilson has been in politics such a short time that he has not been compelled to make political pledges. Those who sprang to his support for president after he had been elected governor did so because they wanted to get behind a winner. His supporters at Baltimore made few pledges, although it was said many federal offices were promised to western delegates if they would "get in line."

But Wilson has made it plain that he authorized no promises, and if promises were made they were repudiated by the positive declarations he has made that none was given. And so he goes into the presidency unpledged. He is not tied very close to the Democratic platform, for he has sort of made a platform of his own. He ought to be a very fearless and independent president.

Seniority Will Count.

No one is willing to admit that the rule of seniority will be overturned in selecting chairmen of the different committees of the senate, and it is asserted, therefore, that Senator Simmons will succeed to the head of the finance committee even if he is not satisfactory to the majority of the Democrats.

Senator Simmons took charge of all the tariff measures sent to the senate in the last session and labored earnestly to secure their passage by the senate in the form which they passed the house. This will count in his favor as a tariff reformer and may prevent overturning a precedent which has been in force so long that it is considered law by the senate.

Set Aside Once Long Ago.

The seniority rule was set aside once long ago, back in the days of Grant's administration. Charles Sumner was relieved as chairman of the foreign relations committee mainly through the influence of President Grant and the stalwarts of the Republican party. Sumner was entirely out of harmony with Grant's foreign policy and made statements which angered Grant's friends. What the differences were about no one seems to recall, but perhaps it was because of the efforts of Grant to annex Santo Domingo. At all events, Sumner was displaced and a friend of Grant made chairman.

There have been times since when the senate was anxious to break the seniority rule, notably when Senator Mitchell of Oregon was in line for chairman of the committee on inter-oceanic canals. Panama was decided upon as the location for the canal and Nicaragua was an intense advocate of Nicaragua. But in the end the committee was strengthened by Panama advocates and Mitchell retained the chairmanship.

An Opportunity Missed.

It is a pity Tom Carter could not have lived until after the recent election. He and Chairman Hill could have conduced with each other. Carter was chairman twenty years ago when the Republicans met their last previous presidential defeat.

Cabinet Construction Difficulties. The men who are making cabinets for President Wilson are having their troubles. One correspondent had figured out for a Baltimore paper what a fine thing it would be to make Senator Rayner of his state secretary of state. He showed how Rayner was just the right kind of a man, his experience in foreign affairs, etc.

Then it occurred to him that Maryland had a Republican governor and the legislature would not meet for more than a year. "It spoils my nice story," he remarked. "I was up against it as soon as I began looking for a successor for Rayner in the senate. The Democrats cannot afford to lose a vote with their narrow margin."

Many Close Votes.

The election has made a record in the unusual number of close votes. Not only did it take many days to ascertain who had carried different states for president, but there are many doubtful congressional districts, and in many states the senatorial contests were decided by a very few votes.

SPENDS A NIGHT IN JAIL

Schenectady Mayor Refuses to Pay Fine of $50.

Little Falls, N. Y., Nov. 16.—Mayor George R. Lunn of Schenectady spent the night in the Herkimer jail. He refused to pay the $50 fine imposed upon him in the local recorder's court for violating a city ordinance and chose to begin serving the alternative sentence of fifty days in jail, pending the perfection of an appeal.

On leaving the local courtroom Mayor Lunn assisted to the automobile that conveyed him to Herkimer Walvriac Sugaipka, a woman who was bound over for the grand jury on a charge of stabbing Officer Kenney in a riot at the Phoenix mills. He tried to comfort the weeping woman.

CARRIED DYNAMITE IN MARKET BASKET

Defendant Who Pleaded Guilty Gives His Evidence.

Indianapolis, Nov. 16.—Carrying dynamite about in a market basket was the way Edward F. Clark, an ironworker testifying at the so called dynamite conspiracy trial, said he arranged to blow up nonunion jobs. Clark, an official of a local union in Cincinnati, pleaded guilty at the beginning of the trial of the forty-five men accused of complicity with the McNamara brothers in the illegal transportation of explosives.

In detailing his confession on the witness stand he told of personally blowing up work on a railroad bridge across the Miami river at Dayton May 3, 1908, and leaving behind an umbrella which bore his initials. Clark asserted officials of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers induced him to do dynamiting.

Once, he said, while inspecting work in Cincinnati, President Frank M. Ryan pointed to a railroad bridge across the Ohio river and said, "There would be a good place to put a shot."

Before that, the witness said, Herbert S. Hoeklin, now secretary of the union, arranged to supply him with dynamite.

"We had had some correspondence with J. J. McNamara at Indianapolis about union conditions in Cincinnati, when, in May, 1908, Hoeklin appeared and told me he was going to spend some money there," said Clark.

BATHTUB VICTIM NOT SLAIN

Medical Examiner Says Heart Failure Killed Boston Girl.

Boston, Nov. 16.—Marjorie G. Powers, a stenographer, twenty-six years old, whose body was found in a bathtub in a hotel, died of heart failure, according to Medical Examiner McGrath.

Arthur T. Cummings, fifty-five years old, a prominent market man, the employer of the young woman, who had been held on suspicion in connection with the case, was released soon after the medical examiner's finding was announced.

District Attorney Pelletier, to whom the medical examiner made his report, issued a statement in which he said that he saw no evidence upon which to base criminal prosecution.

ONE NATION OPPOSES TRUCE

Won't Consent to Armistice Unless Scutari is Surrendered.

Paris, Nov. 16.—An official note issued says the ministers of the powers have approached the various Balkan states with a view to mediation and that the foreign ministers of the allies replied that they would refer the suggestion to their governments. The Montenegrin foreign minister, however, added that his government considered itself unable to consent to an armistice except on condition that the Turks surrender Scutari.

WILSON SEES WAGER PAID

Loser Takes Party to New York in Special Car.

New York, Nov. 16.—On the same train that carried President Elect Wilson from Princeton to New York there was a special car en route from Philadelphia to New York carrying sixteen business men, one of whose number was paying a bet of $5,000 which he wagered a year ago that a Democratic president would not be elected this year.

Charles B. Prettyman, a real estate man of Philadelphia, who won the bet, was, however, according to one of its conditions, to spend $1,500 for a dinner in New York for a party of sixteen business friends. The governor smiled when he learned of the affair.

Censorship Permits No News to Come From Front.

VARIOUS REPORTS DRIFT IN

Among the Rumors Are That Adrianople Has Fallen, That Bulgarians Have Captured Hademkeul, That Nazim Pasha Has Surrendered and That the Bulgarians Have Reached a Point on the Black Sea Near Constantinople.

London, Nov. 16.—As the censorship permits no news to come from the front the situation at the scene of the fighting in the Balkans is more perplexing than ever.

Various reports have drifted in, however, among them that Adrianople has fallen, that the Bulgarians have captured Hademkeul, the headquarters of the Turkish commander in chief; that Nazim Pasha, the Turkish generalissimo, has capitulated and that the Bulgarians, either by sea or land, have reached the vicinity of Kilios, on the Black sea coast, a short distance from Constantinople. These reports still are without confirmation.

A vague dispatch is published at Sofia, stating that six forts along the Tchatalja line have been captured after what are described as heavy sacrifices on the part of the Bulgarians.

All reports previously published through the Reichspost of Vienna or emanating from other sources go to show that the Bulgarians are having no easy task. Nothing is known as to whether the battle continues. The British government has received no news from the seat of war for some days.

What, perhaps, is of graver import than the progress of the hostilities in Southeastern Europe, however, is the revelation of the tremendous ravages cholera is making, not only among the destitute refugees who daily are arriving in thousands at Constantinople, but among the Turkish troops. It is supposed that this danger might well suffice to give the Bulgarian government to arrange an armistice and negotiate peace.

Danger of Cholera Epidemic.

All the practical objects for which the war was undertaken already have been secured and, therefore, it is useless to run the risk of an epidemic of cholera in the Bulgarian army for the sake of a formal entry into Constantinople, to avoid which, it is believed, Turkey is ready to agree to almost any terms.

A significant article appears in the Bulgarian government organ, Mir. It declares that peace is imminent and holds out the olive branch to Turkey to enter into a good understanding with the Balkan league.

A Constantinople dispatch to the Cologne Gazette declares that Bulgaria has abandoned her intentions to enter Constantinople, being thus advised by Russia and Great Britain. Although the report that the armistice already has been arranged has not been confirmed all indications point in that direction and it may be supposed that the terrible conditions of famine and destitution prevailing among the refugees in the neighborhood of Constantinople, which are favorable to provide a hotbed for the spread of cholera, may have had something to do with the Bulgarian decision.

From other points at the seat of war comes news of the occupation of the peninsula of Mount Athos by the Greeks and the march of the Greek army from Saloniki to join in the Servian attack on Monastir.

The Turkish government has issued a batch of dispatches signed by war correspondents of the Paris Temps and Journal des Debats, the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger and Tageblatt, the London Daily Mail and other European papers, denying reports of atrocities alleged to have been committed by Turkish troops.

New Stage In Inebriety.

Mr. Borden has been telling an anecdote concerning two "brither Scots" who used to foregather in a "dry" district, each bringing with him a portable spring of comfort in the shape of a bottle of whisky.

One of them was asked one day by a "third party" whether the other, Jock Anderson, did not get a little drunk sometimes.

"Drunk!" was the reply. "Man, the last time I was w' him Jock got that drunk I couldn't see him."—London

A Lost Diamond.

Oliver Schreiner, the author of "An African Farm," who was brought up in Africa, said that she and her brothers and sisters had as one of their play-things a bright stone that they called the candle stone. It was about the size of a walnut and would flash in a bright and singular way when held up to the light. Not until the children had grown up and the candle stone had been lost for years did any of them remember that it must really have been a huge diamond.

The Higher Education.

A country minister met a farmer parishoner and asked:

"Is your son going back to college this fall?"

"Yes, he is, doctor," the farmer answered.

"But he's got his degree," said the minister. "What's the matter?
Doesn't he know enough to suit you?"

"He knows enough book learnin'," said the farmer, "but from the way he's been helping with the harvestin' of the crops I think he needs a few more athletics."

Literary Dislikes.

It has been pointed out with some surprise that the late W. S. Gilbert had a strong dislike for Jane Austen, but a correspondent of the New York Evening Post reminds us that Mark Twain had a similar antipathy. He said once that "a library that does not contain Jane Austen's works is a good library even if it hasn't another book in it."

OPINION IN THE $20,000 LIBEL CASE

Demurrer of Russell & Barron to Complaint in Mahlum vs Schwartzkopf is Overruled

DEFENDANT TO FILE ANSWER

"The Publication Upon Which Each of the Causes of Action is Based is Clearly Libelous"

Judge C. W. Stanton of the district court has rendered an opinion in the case of Mons Mahlum vs Hugo Schwartzkopf, a suit for $20,000 damages for alleged libel.

The order of the court reads: "This action having come before the undersigned, one of the judges of said court (district court), at the city of Brainerd, in said county, (Crow Wing) on the 12th day of October, 1912, on the demurrer to the complaint on the ground that the allegations thereof do not state facts constituting a cause of action. Messrs. Russell & Barron appearing as attorneys for defendants in support of said demurrer, and Mr. M. E. Ryan appearing as attorney for plaintiff in opposition.

It is ordered that said demurrer be and the same is hereby overruled, with leave to defendant to serve his answer to said complaint within five days from the date of the service of notice of the filing of this order.

Dated November 15, 1912.
(Signed) C. W. Stanton,
District Judge.

The memoranda of Judge Stanton attached, reads: "The publication upon which each of the causes of action is based is clearly libelous. The right of one not specifically named to maintain an action for libel based on charges made against a class or group of persons to which he belongs, is amply sustained by the authorities. See Levert vs Daily States Publishing Co., 23 L. R. A. (n.s.) 726 and notes; also Boehmer vs Detroit Free Press Company, 53 N. W. 822.

"While fair and honest criticism in matters of public concern is privileged, such privilege does not go to the extent of protecting false statements, unjust inferences and imputations of dishonesty."

CAN BRAINERD SUPPORT IT?

"Brainerd," Says M. R. Shelton, "Is Entirely Large Enough to Support Y. M. C. A."

The question has arisen, is Brainerd large enough to support a Young Men's Christian Association? M. R. Shelton, who has had considerable experience in building campaigns and is regarded as a financial expert in association management, has made an exhaustive study of the question and makes the following answer. Of the 602 associations making reports in the association year book, in which the population of the respective towns is given, 192 of them are in towns of twelve thousand population or less. These associations receive no support from railroad companies and are dependent entirely upon their resources and the contributions of friends for their operating expenses. Thus thirty per cent of the associations of this class draw their support from towns smaller than Brainerd. The railroad associations to a great extent are situated in smaller towns than the city associations are and consequently the percentage of associations in the smaller towns is enlarged even above the thirty percent indicated above. According to these figures it is not at all unreasonable to expect the friends of the association in Brainerd to make a sufficient contribution to conduct the work in a creditable manner.

PAINTING SIGNS TO MARK ROADS

Color Scheme is Inaugurated by Automobile Trail Blazing Association of America

BLUE AND WHITE THRU CITY

Trail Leads From St. Cloud to Brainerd, Walker, Bemidji, Green and White to Range

Roscoe B. Anderson and A. L. Meigs, representatives of the Automobile Trail Blazing Association of America, were in the city yesterday and conferred with city officials relative to placing their blue and white and other colored markers on the city electric light poles. Permission was secured and there isn't a citizen in Brainerd who will object to the little markers, two white rings with a blue one in the center, and other colored ones, when he realizes their import.

They are being used throughout the country by the trail blazing association so as to route the country for automobile travel. The blue and white trail starts from St. Cloud, runs through Brainerd, Walker and on to Bemidji. The official garage is marked with a blue and white circle and in this city the E. R. Smith garage has been designated as the official one. However, as explained by Messrs. Anderson and Meigs, the Smith garage will work in cooperation with the other garages of the city. The official hotel of the automobile association will be the Ransford.

As examples of the markers, a large "L" may be seen on the southwest corner of Laurel and South Sixth streets, signifying that the driver turn to the left if he wishes to continue on the route through the city. Farther south on the west side of Sixth street one will see the blue and white markers down the street and an auto driver would have to be stone blind to miss the road.

The letter "R" is designated as the guide mark to turn to the right. A large "X" means railway crossing, danger, go slow, sharp curve or any thing in the shape of a warning to a driver. These signals are always in the color scheme of the control.

From Brainerd a green and white side trip will extend to Deerwood, Crosby, Ironton, Cuyuna, Aitkin, thus affording a fine run to the Cuyuna range.

The Duluth trail via Mille Lacs lake and Moose lake is supplied with yellow and white markers.

The St. Cloud Journal-Press has given the association a good write up and the following is quoted from the paper: "To get as close to the old method of blazing a trail as possible, is the plan of the Automobile Trail Blazing Association of America. Instead of wooden signs that can be removed by vandals or shot full of holes by excited hunters, the association has hit upon a color scheme that is far more effective. Red and white are the colors marking the main transcontinental route laid out by the A. A. A. running from New York to the western coast.

On the telegraph poles from New York to Seattle, following the best roads, will be seen the red and white signs. If a turn to the left is to be made, a huge "L" is seen, if to the right the mark is an "R", while if there is a railroad crossing or a blind turn ahead there is a large "X".

The signs were painted in St. Cloud Wednesday. The main road runs across the Tenth street bridge up to Fifth avenue, to Second street, then to Sixth avenue and out to the Cathedral, then west to the city limits.

St. Cloud, under the plan proposed by Messrs. Anderson and Meigs, is to be the crossing point and night control on two big routes. The second road, known as the blue and white route, runs from Duluth through St. Cloud to Sioux City and then on to Omaha and Denver. This road branches off at the Cathedral and goes straight north.

The signs are at the level of the eye and painted in loud colors on the poles. They can be plainly seen at night as the lights will shine on them.

The scheme is a splendid one and is to be followed out all over the country. Local automobile clubs that desire to lay out roads can communicate with the national organization and a color scheme that will not interfere with the other routes will be assigned.

The laying out of the routes will make St. Cloud a night control and will induce many automobilists to make tours of the state. The representatives received the hearty support and co-operation of the local automobile club.

Brainerd's automobile and Commercial clubs can get busy and be assigned proper colors for Brainerd's various side trips.

PRAISE FOR LESLIE BUSH

R. H. Goss, of Milwaukee, Writes up Connie Mack's Allusion to Pitcher Bush

The St. Paul Dispatch, Thursday, November 14th, contains an article on baseball gossip contributed by R. H. Goss, of Milwaukee, Wis. Under the heading "Praise for Leslie Bush," Mr. Goss says:

"It is a long journey from the front door of a hotel lobby to the desk—when there is a baseball meeting on and Connie Mack essays the pilgrimage. The old boy is a great favorite. He is stopped here, there and everywhere along the line and, since he is an attentive listener, it takes quite a time to make the trip.

"When he came in the Hotel Pister the other day a bell boy seized his grip and the Mack hand that had been holding it immediately was grasped by a minor league manager. He held Connie captive for fifteen minutes. Then some one else buttonholed him and it was just one thing, like that, after another until finally Connie got to the desk, where three men successfully kept him from the register for more than an hour.

"The manager of the Athletics, however, found time to tell what a good man he has in Leslie Bush, the Brainerd, Minn., pitcher he obtained from the Union association the latter part of last season. As a rule Mack does not wax enthusiastic about any ball player, but this is what he had to say for the lad from Brainerd:

"I believe, and I'm sincere when I say it, that Bush will develop into a great pitcher. He has the size, the stuff and the courage. You know, there are times when a pitcher who is being bit hard looks good in spite of it. That's the way Bush impresses me. I expect to keep him on my team."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"The Havoc"

A fairly large audience greeted Paul Gilmore in his presentation of "The Havoc" at the opera house last night. The audience should have been much larger, considering the finished production of this problem play.

As Richard Craig, Mr. Gilmore showed his great histrionic powers. Always natural and unaffected, Mr. Gilmore gained his greatest effects by honest appeals. His sincerity captivated his audience from the very start of the play. He rose to heights of great dramatic power in his denunciation of Hessert and the philosophy which the latter preached and the sneering disregard the home-breaker had shown for law and conventionality. The quiet sarcasm, cutting as a knife, which tore the Hessert family to shreds—stripped Hessert until he stood like a hypocritical scarecrow and jumped at the chance to desert his wife—revealed Mrs. Hessert, broken-hearted and brought face to face with facts as they stood and glad to accept the first position offered her, that as stenographer for her first husband—these were the moments which brought the interesting play to its climax, and showed that an alleged Ibsen philosophy as preached by Hessert had no place in an American home, that love for a woman can just as truly be expressed in deeds as in constant protestations of affection.

William Devere as Hessert filled the part well. Miss Kathryn Hutchinson as Mrs. Kate Craig, was a lovely little woman acting well her part.

Mr. Gilmore gave a short curtain speech in response to continued applause and expressed himself in a happy manner. He told two stories about Nat Goodwin which convulsed the house.

Saved by His Wife. She's a wise woman who knows just what to do when her husband's life is in danger, but Mrs. R. J. Flint, Braintree, Vt., is of that kind. "She insisted on my using Dr. King's New Discovery," writes Mr. F., "for a dreadful cough, when I was so weak my friends all thought I had only a short time to live, and it completely cured me." A quick cure for coughs and colds, it is the most safe and reliable medicine for any throat and lung troubles—grip, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, quinsy, tonsillitis, hemorrhages. Write Ideas for Moving Picture Plays!

YOU Can Write Photo Plays and Earn $25 or More Weekly

We will Show You How

If you have ideas—if you can THINK—we will show you the secrets of this fascinating new profession. Positively no experience or literary excellence necessary. No "flowery language" is wanted.

The demand for photoplays is practically unlimited. The big film manufacturers are "moving heaven and earth" in their attempts to get enough good plots to supply the ever increasing demand. They are offering $100 and more for single scenarios, or written ideas.

Nearly all the big film companies, the buyers of photoplays, are located in or near NEW YORK CITY. Being right on the spot, and knowing at all times just what sort of plots are wanted by the producers, our SALES DEPARTMENT has a tremendous advantage over agencies situated in distant cities.

We have received many letters from the big film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUBIN, IMP, SOLAX, REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, COMET, MELIES, ETC., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for publication."

Perhaps we can do the same for you. If you think of only one good idea every week, and will write it out as directed by us, and it sells for only $25, a low figure,

You will earn $100 Monthly for spare time work

FREE Send your name and address at once for free copy of our illustrated book, "Moving Picture Playwriting"

Don't hesitate. Don't argue. Write NOW and learn just what this new profession may mean to you and your future.
